After an intense month, time to come up for air! We had another wonderful Frets And Refrains guitar and songwriting camp, at Full Moon resort near Woodstock NY. The general consensus was that it was even better than last year's, the weather was pleasantly cooler, and it was nice to see all our returning alumni and faculty. Shawn Colvin stepped into her teaching role as if born to it, and our thanks to Teddy, Happy, Sloan, Bobby, Simon, Zak, Martin, Jack, Nancy, Danny, Amy, Fletcher and all who made it such a stunning event.

We were delighted to be a part of the AmericanaramA tour, playing in such illustrious company. This really was a rolling festival, with considerable logistics - I think I counted 11 tour buses, and half a dozen trucks to move everything from town to town. For me, touring on this scale was a new experience, and our thanks to Jeff and all with Wilco for including us so often in their set, and thanks to Bob for his generosity.

Straight to Europe, and one cannot always report that the festival season was hot and dry! After all those years of ploughing through mud and rain, it's nice to default on the warm side. We saw many happy festival-goers at Larmer Tree and Latitudes, and also got to play at a couple of our favourite venues, Paradiso in Amsterdam, and Rivierenhof in Antwerp.

Some well-deserved downtime for band and crew now (although Taras jumps straight onto the Merle Haggard tour), and see you all at the Philadelphia Folk Festival!

All the best,

RT

*I've visited OTS stations in Costa Rica many times, and at one point, my family did a week's scientific 'boot camp' at La Selva. I see their work in training and research in Central and South America as vital to the continuation of the rainforests, and the species therein, and the human race, and the planet. - RT
